

Agent-in-a-box

Our Agent-in-a box offer allows organisations to pick from tested, qualified industry use cases and agent templates to build a proof-of-concept ready agent in a matter of weeks.

By leveraging our expertise, industry knowledge and extensive catalogue of over 150+ built agents and over 500 qualified use cases you can eliminate uncertainty and common pitfalls throughout the agent build process. Select from a shortlist of high value, high impact agents that Engage Squared have deployed across the industry.

The outcome of this engagement is a working PoC agent that your stakeholders can test in real time laying the foundations of a maturity roadmap if you decide to further develop and deploy your agent.

Choose your agent

Assignment review

Streamline curriculum assignment review by checking teacher-selected course pages against school standards and marking criteria, with a completed rubric generated in Word.

Assignment design

Accelerate assignment design by creating curriculum-aligned assessment briefs, success criteria and supporting teaching resources based on approved educational frameworks.

Study accelerator

Accelerate student learning by analysing assignment workloads, prioritising study activities and generating personalised study plans through integration with the learning ecosystem.

Lesson planning

Streamline lesson and curriculum planning by generating standards-aligned teaching plans, learning activities and classroom resources based on curriculum requirements and year-level outcomes.

Teacher coaching

Enhance teaching effectiveness by providing curriculum-aligned strategies, evidence-based teaching guidance and recommendations tailored to specific learning outcomes and classroom contexts.

School policy

Simplify policy navigation and compliance by providing instant answers to school policy questions, surfacing relevant guidance from approved education and legislative sources.

Start with a proven use case and see what an AI agent could do for your institution in weeks.

Expected outcomes

- A working proof-of-concept agent based on your chosen education use case
- Agent configured using relevant curriculum, policies or organisational information
- Hands-on testing with key stakeholders to validate functionality and usefulness
- Recommendations for refinement, security, governance and integration requirements
- A clear roadmap for moving from proof of concept to production
